- Students are responsible for taking notes and keeping handouts organized in their binders. Marks will be awarded for the neatness and completeness of binders.
- Students are expected to keep up with their work and review their notes on a daily basis even if no formal homework was assigned.

Late Penalties

One day late	Two days late	Three days late
10% deduction	20% deduction	A grade of zero

Absences

- If/when a student is absent, he is responsible to obtain or submit any missed notes, assignments or homework.
- Absent for Homework: If a student is absent due to illness on the day homework is due, it must be handed in on the first day the student is back in school. If a student will be absent due to a planned activity (non-illness), he is required to inform the teacher at least 48 hours in advance in order to schedule the due date for the work that he will miss.
- Absent for Tests: If a student is absent for a test due to illness, he is required to write the test on the first day back in school. If a student will be absent for a test due to an activity (planned absence), he must inform the teacher at least 48 hours in advance in order to schedule a time to write the test.
- Late penalties for tests: If a student does not follow the above guidelines for test absences, a late penalty or even a grade of zero may be applied.

Cheating and Plagiarism

- The school has very serious consequences for cheating and plagiarism. Under most circumstances, a grade of zero will be applied, as well as a Yellow Sheet through the Office of the Vice-Principal of Discipline.
- Copying workbook homework, or lending your completed workbook homework to a classmate, is considered cheating. Workbook homework is to be completed on your own.
- If you are not sure what constitutes cheating or plagiarism, simply ask the teacher in advance.
