A Year in Philanthropy

Each year at Loyola, we are reminded that generosity is not simply a gesture; it is an expression of faith in what we stand for. The Loyola community's continued support reflects a deep understanding that philanthropy here is not about transactions but transformation. It is the collective act of sustaining a Jesuit mission that forms young people of conscience, competence, compassion, and commitment, students who will go forth to serve others with purpose and humility.

As the world around us changes, Loyola continues to evolve in ways that meet the needs of today's students while remaining firmly anchored in our Ignatian foundation. Each gift to Loyola is a way of journeying with our students as they discover who they are, what they can do, and how they are called to make a difference.

The generosity of our alumni, parents, and friends is the foundation on which our school continues to thrive. Through gifts to bursaries, facilities and school programs, our community has affirmed its belief that a Loyola education continues to matter deeply.

This past year, the Advancement Office has focused on deepening relationships and widening the circles of connection. We have listened to stories of alumni who carry Loyola's values into their lives and work, and have witnessed the steadfast generosity of families who give year after year because they believe in the transformative power of Loyola's community. Each of these encounters reminds us that our community's strength lies not only in its history, but in its shared commitment to the future.

As we look ahead, Loyola stands in a moment of both continuity and renewal. We honour the traditions that shaped us while embracing new opportunities. We do so knowing that the generosity of this community makes it possible for Loyola to continue forming men and women for and with others and students who are leaders will bring compassion and wisdom to the world.

With gratitude,

Scott Corbett

Executive Director of Advancement

Donor Impact on Experiential Learning

While tuition fees sustain Loyola's daily operations, philanthropy breathes life into the experiences that distinguish a Loyola education. In the 2024-25 school year, donor support enabled students across all grade levels to engage in creative, hands-on learning that turned classroom lessons into experiential discovery. Below are a few highlights of those enriching projects made possible by the generosity of our community.

A SOUND INVESTMENT: VINYLLOYOLA

The newly formed Vinyl Club has quickly become a favourite of senior student life. Meeting once per cycle during lunch, members take turns sharing records and discussing the music and its stories. The club has also explored outings to Montreal's vibrant record stores and flea markets devoted to vinyl collecting. Teachers and staff are welcome to drop in, sparking intergenerational conversations around a shared love of music. Founded at the start of the 2025-26 school year, the club celebrates music as both an art form and a way to connect through music.

CRAFTING AT THE MUSEUM OF FINE ARTS ▲

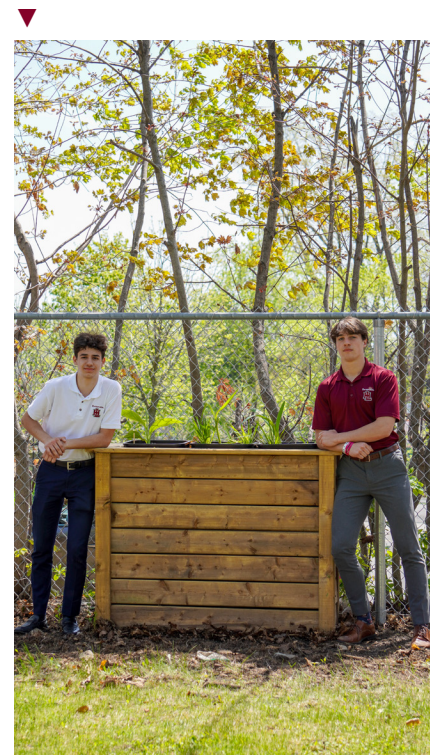

On October 15, three Secondary 2 Art classes visited the Montreal Museum of Fine Arts for a full day of art exploration. Students took a guided tour of the galleries, discovering works from a range of time periods and artistic movements. They then participated in a painting workshop in the museum's educational studios, where they experimented with colour, texture, and technique inspired by the artworks they had seen.

BUILDING THE SCHOOL GARDEN

Secondary 5 students in the Industrial Arts option course designed and built benches, flower beds, and picnic tables for the West Broadway Loyola garden. Starting outdoors in fall 2024, the project moved to the workshop during winter construction and concluded with a spring installation.

Throughout the process, students honed proper and safe tool use, practiced hand and power tool techniques, and developed specialized joinery skills to create durable, weather-resistant structures. This year, a new group of students continued the projects by adding a sturdy set of outdoor picnic tables.

Named Bursary Endowments

Creating a named endowed bursary is a unique and lasting way to make an impact in the lives of students for generations. By establishing this bursary, you not only support deserving students in overcoming financial barriers, but you also create a legacy that reflects your values and commitment to education. Your gift becomes a permanent source of opportunity, empowering students to access a Loyola education and to fully embrace their potential. A named bursary stands as a tribute to the difference one person, family, or organization can make, forever shaping the future of our community.
